FEW FOOD LAW SUITS

Only Six Prosecutions Out of 6,325 Inspections.

OFFICIAL REPORTS ARE MADE

Health Officer Woodward Directs Assistants to Make Special Reports on Condition of Market Houses, Commission Houses, and Provision Stores—Merchants Prepare to Fight.

As the result of 6,325 inspections of the provision stores and 500 inspections of markets made by the inspectors of the health department for October, November, and December, there were but six prosecutions in Police Court for failure to comply with the sanitary regulations. These figures are shown by the last quarterly reports of Inspectors J. R. Mothershead, W. H. Hoover, and Thomas Cavalnaugh.

The inspectors were directed yesterday by Health Officer W. C. Woodward to make a special report relative to the conditions of the market houses, commission houses, and provision stores as included in the report of Dr. H. T. McKeown, of the Bureau of Animal Industry.

The health officer was emphatic, in stating that if the uncleanness described by Dr. McKeown exists some one has been remiss in the duties of his office.

The attention of the inspectors was called to section 6 of an ordinance to prevent the sale of unwholesome food in Washington and Georgetown, which reads as follows:

"That no person owning, renting, leasing, or occupying any stall, room, or stand where meats or vegetables are sold for food within the District of Columbia shall fail to keep said stall, room, or stand in clean condition; nor shall such person allow said meats or vegetables to become putrid or infected or unfit for food by reason of uncleanly conditions or in the health officer's opinion, and any person violating the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $25 for each and every offense."

Failure Makes Arrest Possible.

Failure to comply with these provisions, said Dr. Woodward, makes the proprietor of markets, stores, or commission houses liable to arrest without notice.

The last quarterly report of Inspector Hoover, which, according to Dr. Woodward, is about the average, shows the amount of food stuff condemned by one inspector:

625 pounds of mutton, 21 of veal, 12 of pork, 28 of bacon, 42 of venison, 42 of sausage; number of chickens, 38; turkeys, 101; ducks, 12; geese, 42; rabbits, 612; birds, 1,421; squirrels, 37; eels, 30 bunches; shad, 2; lettuce, 7; caulages, 3; egg plants, 25; kale, 15 bushels; peas and miscellaneous fruits and vegetables, 130 bushels.

The report of the inspectors of his department will be considered in connection with the suggestion of Dr. McKeown, following which the health officer will submit his report to the Commissioners.

Merchants to Fight Measures.

Preparations have been begun to fight the movement inaugurated by the Health Department which prohibits the selling of meats from open stalls. Merchants throughout the wholesale district were earnestly engaged in discussing the proposed law yesterday, and although nothing definite has as yet been formulated, it is highly probable that a mass meeting will soon be held and the services of attorneys retained to fight the measure in the courts.

O. O. Spicer, one of the leading wholesale dealers on Louisiana avenue, stated yesterday that steps would undoubtedly be taken soon to prevent the adoption of this measure.

"It is unnecessary and unjust," he said, "and I cannot see any reason why they should attempt to enforce such a regulation. But of this you may be sure: If the board of health issues any such order, we will fight it with all our might."

J. H. Johnson, another merchant whose place of business is on Louisiana avenue, expressed the same opinion.

"The regulation is unjust," he said last evening, "there will be something done, but what it will be, I cannot say."

EXECUTE PURE-FOOD LAW.

Commissioners and Agricultural Department to Confer.

At the suggestion of Willet M. Hays, Acting Secretary of Agriculture, Commissioner Macfarland yesterday recommended to the Board of Commissioners that the corporation counsel be directed to confer with the solicitor of the Department of Agriculture relative to the respective functions of the Department of Agriculture and the District government with respect to the enforcement of the pure food and drug act within the District.

This is the result of a desire on the part of the Commissioners to secure a definite understanding as to co-operation in this matter, so as to get the best results and safeguard the health of the community. Until a working basis of co-operation is reached, the health department will continue to execute the laws governing inspections of food products, etc.

Owing to the legal questions involved, there has been some delay on the part of the Department of Agriculture in answering the questions of the Commissioners. The District Inspection has continued, however, and will continue until it is determined what part the Department of Agriculture will take in the inspection of foods and drugs in the market.

School for Women and Girls.

"To establish and maintain an institution of learning for women and girls in which special attention is to be given to the formation of industrial habits and Christian character," is given as the object and cause of existence of the National Training School for Women, for the incorporation of which papers were filed yesterday. It is stated that eighty trustees are to manage the affairs of the school for the next year. The document is signed by Annie H. Burroughs, Julia M. Layton, and Lewis G. Jordan. William L. Polard appears as attorney in the case.

Keep Watch on School Supplies.

As a result of a complaint recently filed by Rudolph & West Company that the school authorities refused to acknowledge the receipt of certain articles, claiming they were not received, Admiral George Baird yesterday informed the Commissioners that steps will be taken by the officials to have all supplies received at the various schools properly checked up and recorded.

Dr. Wiley Heard by Men's Club.

Prof. H. W. Wiley gave a lecture under the auspices of the Men's Club, of the Vermont Avenue Christian Church, last night. His subject was: "What pure-food laws will do for our people," and with his thorough knowledge of the theme, which he has been investigating for years, he kept the attention of the large audience throughout the lecture.

LAW OVERLOOKS PENSIONS.

Additional Legislation Needed to Include Newly Created Firemen.

A request for a legal opinion, as to whether their positions entitle them to a pension in case of injuries incurred in the line of duty, was made to the Commissioners by Deputy Chief L. V. Selb and Inspectors M. C. Metz and C. G. Ahlsetter, of the fire department. The firemen state that $1 a month is deducted from their salary and credited to the pension fund.

Accompanying the communication with another letter, Chief Belt states that the act providing for a reorganization of the fire department created certain new positions, but failed to make an amendment to the pension law, rendered necessary by such reorganization. As the law now stands there is no provision made for the pensioning of the fire marshal and the two inspectors. The danger to which these men are exposed, in the opinion of Chief Belt, renders them eligible to the benefits of the relief fund.

Corporation Counsel E. H. Thomas, to whom the matter was referred, has requested the opinion of the Comptroller of the Treasury, stating that he believes legislation on the subject is needed.

TO LICENSE MONEY LENDERS

Commissioner West Recommends Necessary Legislation Be Enacted.

Suggests That Concerns Be Controlled as Are the Employment Agencies.

The various money-lending concerns of the District will hereafter be compelled to obtain a license and will be controlled by legislation similar to that recently enacted for employment agencies, if the recommendations made yesterday by Commissioner West are adopted. In a letter to the Board of Commissioners, Commissioner West says:

"The accompanying pamphlets, cards, dodgers, and other advertising material, nearly all representing different institutions, and all of them deposited at various times in the doorway of a single resident of the city, illustrate the extent to which money-lending concerns are being multiplied in the District of Columbia. It will be noticed that nearly all of these concerns are anonymously conducted, and that every inducement is offered to get people to borrow from them. Not only ought these concerns be compelled to pay a license, but they ought to be subjected to regulations, and, in fact, ought to be controlled by legislation similar to that recently enacted for employment agencies."

"I move that the corporation counsel be directed to frame a bill which the Commissioners can submit to Congress, and which will license and regulate these money-lending concerns."

Commissioner Macfarland announced himself as heartily in favor of the recommendations made by Commissioner West. Corporation Counsel E. H. Thomas will be instructed to draft such a law, which will be submitted to Congress.

NEEDS MORE POLICEMEN.

Sylvester Requests Commissioners to Ask Congress for Appropriation.

The Commissioners have been requested by the superintendent of police to ask Congress for an appropriation for an additional number of men for the police force. The department, he states, is too limited at the present time to give attention to the numerous violations of the police regulations and the multiplicity of details in different sections of the city.

The Jamestown Exposition, which opens in May, he states, will bring to Washington between 40,000 and 50,000 strangers, whose welfare should be looked after. In addition to this, it is stated, that there is not a sufficient force properly to patrol the neighborhood of the new Union Depot.

As a result of a petition signed by a number of employees of the police department who are classed as laborers requesting an increase of pay, the superintendent of police yesterday recommended that their salaries be increased from $600 to $720 per annum.

The superintendent of police yesterday approved the request of S. R. Burch, chief clerk of the Department of Agriculture, that B. H. Cook, Clarence Bean, B. T. Ridgway, and J. M. Boardman be appointed special officers of the Metropolitan police force for a period of three years in and about the department. Mr. Burch also requests that the names of Special Officers J. A. Harvey and John W. Dawson be dropped from the rolls, as they are no longer connected with the department.

Charles H. King and Edward Mallory have been appointed special officers of the freight yards of the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company, to be stationed at the Pennsylvania avenue bridge. They will be paid by the railroad company.

SETTLEMENT HOUSE READY.

New Building to Be Dedicated Next Saturday Afternoon.

Arrangements have been completed for the dedication of the new settlement building of the Christian Association, corner of Twenty-sixth and Lombard streets, Philadelphia, at 4 o'clock next Saturday afternoon, January 19.

Provost Charles C. Harrison will make the dedicatory address, and he will also preside at the ceremony of unveiling a tablet expressing gratitude to Horatio C. Wood, M. D., LL. D., of other addresses will be made by Prof. Samuel McCune Lindsay and John W. Bates. During the supper, at 6 p. m., music will be furnished by the University Glee Club, and after a brief meeting, especially for settlement workers, the evening will be spent in basketball games, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Examination for Teacher.

A written examination for the position of teacher in mathematics in the McKinley Manual Training School will be held at the Central High School January 21, 9 a. m.

The oral examination will take place at the Franklin School Building January 22, 9 a. m., and the following day to time, when all the candidates are to form the subjects of the examination: Elementary and college algebra, calculus, analytics, geometry, trigonometry, English, history and current events, pedagogy and psychology, and physics.

The salary attached to the position is $1,000 per annum, with a yearly increase of $100, until the sum of $1,300 is reached.

Would Amend Tax Collection Law.

Collector of Taxes E. G. Davis yesterday recommended to the Commissioners that the law authorizing seizure for non-payment of taxes be so amended as to allow the collector at his option to either distrain or sue delinquents and also to make the certificate of the collector of taxes a conclusive evidence in the presentation of books in court. The proposed amendment was referred to the corporation counsel for his opinion.

HUGHES HEIRS FIGHT

Contest Over Dead Woman's Will Sure to Occur.

WANT HER HUSBAND'S ESTATE

Value of His Property Placed at $50,000 and Attorneys for Beneficiaries Say They Will Take Matter Into Courts—Gittings to Show Cause Why Third Will Should Not Be Filed.

Unless the parties interested in the matter arrive at an agreement, which, at this time seems altogether unlikely, the will of Mrs. Louise A. B. Hughes, who died in New York City January 7, will be contested by the various claimants. As matters stand, the contest will take place whether any of her various wills are offered for probate in this city or in New York, which latter place, it is claimed by attorneys, was her last legal residence and domicile.

The heirs under the will of David M. Hughes, the testator's husband, have retained counsel for the purpose, it is understood, to begin proceedings for the recovery of the $50,000 of his estate, which, by his will, his widow was authorized to dispose of as she saw fit. The contestants contend that if it can be established that Mrs. Hughes at the time she made her will was mentally unqualified to dispose of her property, they are entitled to the $50,000 and the rest of the residuary of his estate.

The will executed by Mrs. Hughes in March, 1902, a few months before she was declared insane, contains a number of charitable bequests provided for in the will executed for her by J. J. Darlington in 1903, and also made provisions for Niles and the latter's wife. The wills were drawn up and executed in 1903 and 1902 are in the possession, it is said, of Attorney J. C. Gittings, who is expected to appear in the Probate Court on Thursday and show why the will of Mrs. Hughes, executed in the year 1902, should not be offered for probate in this jurisdiction.

It is claimed that in the last-found will, which was executed in 1906, Cuno H. Rudolph and A. S. Hutchins, of this city, are named as executors. For their services, Mrs. Hughes, it is said, left them $5,000 each. The $50,000 left her by her husband was disposed of under this last named will, it is claimed, in about the same manner as is stipulated in the codicil offered for probate last Saturday.

Requests for Missionary Society.

By the terms of the will of Irene S. Buchanan, dated March 27, 1902, premises 405 New Jersey avenue northwest are devised to the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, Boston, Mass., for the purpose of spreading the gospel. ## NEW POLICE COURT OPENS.

Big Crowd of Prisoners, Witnesses, and Spectators in Attendance.

Over 500 persons—prisoners, witnesses, and spectators—crowded the rooms when the Police Court was called to order for the first time, in its new building, corner Sixth and D streets northwest, yesterday morning.

It was a busy day, too, as sixty-one prisoners inaugurated the newest cells in the city, and were called out to receive the dedicated implement to fit their respective crimes and offenses. The first case was called in the District branch at 9:45 o'clock, when Judge Kimball presided. Judge Mulowny presided in the United States branch.

The sessions were somewhat informal, as owing to the scarcity of furniture on hand and the failure of the new articles to arrive in time, there were seats for but few and nearly everybody had to stand. There were about twenty seats in the District branch, but the United States branch did not have that many.

Richard Anderson, colored, driver of the jail van, who moved to thirty years ago, when the Police Court was removed from its old site on C street to its present site, drove the first load of prisoners from the precinct stations to the Police Court, to-day again drove the van with the first load of prisoners to the new court.

PUBLISHES CARDOZO CHARGES

Admiral Baird Gives Out Document Embracing Counts.

Colored Principal Said to Have Published Libel Against Assistant Superintendent Montgomery.

The charges on which Francis L. Cardozo will be tried before the board of education on January 19 were made public yesterday by Admiral Baird. The document embraces four specific counts, and is signed by William E. Chancellor, superintendent of schools, and Dr. Wm. S. Montgomery, colored, assistant superintendent, who prefers the charges.

Cardozo is alleged to have written, uttered, and published a certain anonymous libel against Dr. Montgomery, which is quoted in the charges, and which criticizes his attitude toward certain teachers. Cardozo will further be called on to explain his alleged criticisms of five teachers who are specified in the document, and who will probably appear as witnesses against him.

The last specification is that Cardozo, in an interview with the superintendent of public schools about October 1, was unbecomingly to the directions of Dr. Chancellor and refused to co-operate with him, at the same time declining to recognize Dr. Montgomery as a proper person for the position of assistant superintendent of the public schools.

A notice containing the date of the trial and a copy of the charges has been sent to Cardozo, as well as to his attorneys. The sittings will convene at 2 o'clock on Saturday and will continue from day to day until the trial is concluded, although it is expected that only one meeting will be necessary.

FIGHTS MOSQUITO PLAGUE.

Health Officer Recommends Remedy for James Creek Canal Nuisance.

For sanitary reasons, and in order that the residents of that section may not be burdened next summer by a plague of mosquitoes, Health Officer W. C. Woodward yesterday recommended that James Creek canal be filled in its entire length as soon as its use as an open sewer has been abandoned. Dr. Woodward says:

"I am strongly of the opinion, all things considered, that the interests of the community will be best served by filling in the James Creek canal in its entire length. If this cannot be done, means should be established for systematically flushing the canal from its upper end and down through its entire length. Pending the making of such arrangements the entire surface should be covered with kerosene to prevent the propagation of mosquitoes."

The matter has been referred to the Engineer Commissioner for consideration.
